

Membership Guidelines for Independent Educational Consultants (IECs)

In the 2022-2023 cycle, The Membership Committee completed a comprehensive review of PACAC's membership structure including research and benchmarking with other affiliates. From this work, alongside the work of the Ad-Hoc committee on Independent Educational Consultants, this recommendation on updates to our membership were made to the Executive Committee and were put into place in 2023. This policy states that:

Independent Educational Consultants will be asked to confirm their status in one of these member organizations: AICEP, HECA, IECA, NACAC

Independent Educational Consultants who value PACAC membership, but don't have the time to fulfill the requirements for membership in another organization, may register as a for-profit entity instead. As such, they will not be a voting member, but will still receive member-pricing for all PACAC events. Another option is to continue taking advantage of PACAC programming at the non-member rates.
